COMMUNICATION | COORDINATION | COOPERATION

I would like to update you on the progress of our combination with Ramius and in particular, about the shareholder voting process and its importance to the transaction. I'm happy to report that our final registration statement, including the proxy statement/prospectus, went effective with the SEC last Friday. The proxy statement/prospectus will be mailed to all stockholders, including all employee stockholders, this week. Our proxy solicitor (Innisfree) will be working hard over the next couple of weeks to contact our stockholders to encourage everyone to vote. In the next few weeks, Peter Cohen and I will be visiting with many of our larger stockholders to talk about the transaction and the importance of their votes. We have scheduled the special meeting of our stockholders for the morning of Monday, November 2, with the closing of the transaction to occur immediately following the stockholder meeting. If all goes according to schedule, we will commence trading on November 2 as a combined firm.

I want to stress how important it is for all employee stockholders to participate in the vote. The voting window is short, as the scheduled closing is only 19 business days from today. To make sure the voting process goes smoothly and to avoid a last-minute push to get out the vote, I would urge everyone to vote your shares as soon as possible. If you don't receive your proxy statement/prospectus packet this week in the mail, please let Chris White or Kevin McCarthy know and we will get you the necessary voting materials promptly.

We are looking forward to closing the transaction on November 2 and moving forward with our Ramius colleagues to build and grow our businesses, but it all starts with stockholder approval. Please do your part by voting. Thank you for your continued hard work and dedication as we embark on this new chapter.
